The Colonel Sanders Story.

It all began 28 years ago in a small-town restaurant where Colonel Sanders perfected his secret blend of eleven herbs and spices. Word got around that you couldn't beat the Colonel for good service and mighty fine fried chicken. But it wasn't until a highway by-passed his Corbin, Kentucky restaurant that the Colonel decided to take his recipe further afield. Today, more than 5,000 Kentucky Fried Chicken Stores the world over have much in common with that first restaurant. Spotless kitchens, fast service, good value for money. And the world's most delicious chicken.
